Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance

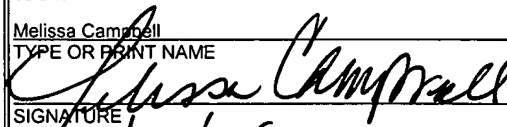

In the Examiner's statement of reasons for allowance, the Examiner discussed various shortcomings of the prior art, various examples of Applicant's embodiments, and various benefits that may result from such examples. The breadth of Applicant's claims is not limited by such shortcomings, examples, and benefits. For example, at page 3, line 7, the Examiner discussed a shortcoming of the prior art by stating, "not an actual digitized version of the physical paper." By comparison, Applicant's claims recite, "a first version of a mass-produced printed paper" and "a second version of the paper."

Respectfully submitted,

Michael A. Davis, Jr.
